FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

MEMBERS OF THE COLUMBIA COMMUNITY UNIT DISTRICT 4 BOARD OF EDUCATION: John Gummersheimer, Ron Langhans, Orville Williams, Maurice Schneider, Gene Haller, B.D. Wohlwend, Harvey Stumpf, Melvin Veit.

Officials Determine Policies

This year the Columbia Community Unit District 4 Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools Orville A. Williams made important decisions affecting students, faculty, and community. Faced with a serious budget deficit at the outset of the school year, the Board sponsored a public opinion poll of the community's attitudes toward the schools and a tax rate referendum to obtain additional local tax funds for school needs. Despite able assistance by school faculty and students, the December 16th referendum failed. As a result, extensive program and faculty cuts were announced for the 1973-74 school year.

The Board supported the community initiated campaign and petitions to annex the school district to the Belleville Area College, thus easing the financial obligation of the school system as members of the community attend the college.

In February, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction sent a team of selected educators to evaluate the district's programs for state requirements. The Board received the recommendations, including, for the high school, the addition of an assistant principal and a counselor as well as greatly needed improvements in the media center. The team commented on the faculty's enthusiasm and high morale despite the district's trying financial situation.

In the spring, the Planning-Programming-Budgeting System was initiated as a result of a grant obtained by Superintendent Williams. As a result of student, faculty, administration, and community input, the district has been given definitive insight for future planning and budgeting.

The Board of Education responds to questions and comments in a meeting open to the community.

Born and educated in Collinsville, Mr. Williams served in the U.S. Navy and holds a master's degree in educational administration and history from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. He and his wife and their two sons, Dan, 19, and Tom, 17, live in Columbia. Prior to his assumption of duties in Columbia, he served school districts in West Frankfort, Barrington, Bethalto, Cuba, Mascoutah, Shelbyville, and Oneida in Illinois and was a research assistant in the Department of Education Administration at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

New Superintendent Assumes Responsibilities

The 1972-73 school year was inaugurated by the arrival of a new Superintendent for Columbia schools, ORVILLE A. WILLIAMS. His two-year contract, at an annual salary of approximately $20,000, became effective in July of 1972. Immediately, Mr. Williams familiarized himself with the problems of the district, particularly the financial difficulties. Mr. Williams believes that students "have the right to succeed and the right to fail in their school performance" and that they must be helped to accept both without losing "their individual worth and human dignity."

Superintendent Williams confers with students Debbie Gavach and Ginny Pope.

WILLIAM S. MYGATT, principal at Columbia High School, received his masters degree in educational administration from Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. Mr. Mygatt's varied duties include curriculum direction, student discipline, coordination of the high school activities calendar, and the day-to-day operation of the high school.

Leaders Give Direction

CLOVIS PARKER, guidance director, holds an MS from the University of Mississippi. He sponsors the National Honor Society and assisted with the Sadie Hawkins Dance, Honor Roll, Success Committee, Graduation ushers, High School Education Night, and the Spaghetti Dinner.

MRS. DELVIRA HANEGAN, the school librarian, received her BS from Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. In addition to her efforts to expand both the book and audio-visual acquisitions of the library, she sponsors the Library Club, Pep Club, and Columbian. She helped organize pep assemblies, Homecoming Parade, Library Bake Sale, and the many sections of the high school annual.

Experts Direct Special Services

MRS. DOROTHY HOFFMAN, the school nurse, received her RN from Missouri Baptist School of Nursing. In addition to her many duties as nurse at the district schools, she also teaches a course in family nursing at the senior high school. This class toured the St. Louis Children's Hospital and heard Bernice Kruse, the county nurse, as part of the coursework.

VERNON SMITH, BS, Washington University, teaches English and serves as Athletic Director and assists with the Lettermen's Club. MRS. CAROLYN ODLE, MA, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, teaches English and is a freshman class sponsor. KENNETH CLAYTON, MS, Northern Illinois University, teaches English, specializing in speech and drama, and sponsors the Drama Club. SANDY MORRIS, AB, Washington University, teaches English and Latin and sponsors the Columbian and sophomore class. MERIDETH LUCAS, MS, Northern Illinois University, teaches English, and sponsors the senior class and the Greater Earth Society.

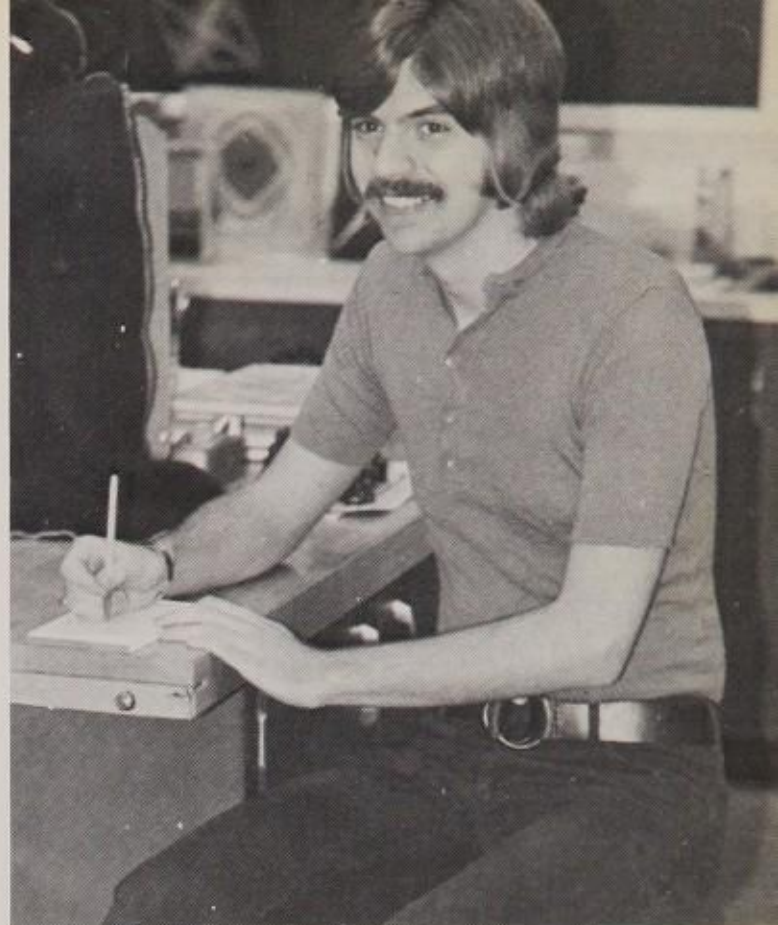

New English Program Encourages Individualism

Both teachers and students have responded enthusiastically to the new English program of elective nine-week "mini" courses begun this year. It replaced the traditional series of four year courses, with the exception of Practical English I and II, remaining as full year courses, and Journalism, retained as a semester course. Among the variety of new course offerings were Theatre Production, Creative Writing, Research Paper, Sports Heroes, College Vocabulary, and Science Fiction.

The new program required the purchase of paperback books to replace or to supplement texts already in use and the increased use of library resources. In addition, Chief of Police Riebeling and Officer Don Hutchings spoke to the Detective Stories classes of Mrs. Odle, and Miss Lucas, respectively. Miss Morris' Black American Literature class visited the St. Louis City Art Museum exhibit of African Art.

The intention of the new program is to encourage students to make decisions regarding their own education, as they select courses with guidance, and to motivate students' involvement in their English class, as they have chosen to be there.

GERALD HUMPHREYS, BS from Southeast Missouri State University, teaches the four year program in art and sponsors the Art Club. In addition, he is a sophomore class sponsor and frequently was called upon to assist with other school activities such as the Homecoming Parade and Drama Club productions.

UHL SACKMAN, chorus and band director, received his BS in music from Murray State University. He heads the Pep Band, Marching Band, and the Stage Band. The Columbia High School Bands also participated in the annual spring band contests. At the one at Freeburg, March 10, fourteen of Mr. Sackman's students placed first.

Fine Arts and Languages Develop Special Talents

MRS. BONNIE CARRON, who received her BS from Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, teaches French and English and sponsors the French Club and sophomore class.

WILLIAM SHANNON, who teaches all the German classes, has a BA from Eastern Illinois University.

RONALD HARRIS, U.S. History teacher, and Student Council sponsor, holds a BS from Southeast Missouri State University. He has taken field trips to Jefferson Barracks Museum, St. Louis Art Museum, and Union Station in St. Louis. MARY SAMELMAN, BS from Eastern Illinois University, teaches Western Civilization, sociology, and consumer education. Students in consumer education tour a Columbia bank to gain insights into that institution's role in the life of the consumer. RICHARD NICHOLSON, BS from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, teaches U.S. History, government, and American problems while working on a masters degree. In addition, he is a Senior class sponsor and invited East St. Louis Mayor James Williams to speak to his classes. His American problems students took an airplane ride to observe city development and zoning.

Sciences Promote Inquiry

JAMES MAASBERG, instructor in anatomy and biology, has an MS from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, sponsors the Sophomore class, and took his anatomy class to Carbondale to observe human dissection. GERALD RAINS, BS, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, teaches math and chemistry, sponsors the Junior class and Science Club, and aided with the NASA program. EMILIO BASSY, with a masters degree from Springfield College, Springfield, teaches biology, sponsors the Letterman's Club, Senior Class Magazine Drive, and coaches Cross Country and track teams.

MRS. SANDRA CLAYTON, BS from Northern Illinois University, teaches algebra and sponsors the sophomore class.

MRS. NADI HARLEY, BS from Arkansas State University, teaches algebra, probability, statistics, and geometry. In addition, she is a senior class sponsor and assists with cheerleaders.

WARREN TROTTER, BA from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, teaches trigonometry, analytical geometry, practical math, advanced algebra, geometry, and independent math. He sponsors the junior class, Math Club, and FTA; he is also the Varsity Baseball coach and assisted with the Prom and Math Club Volleyball game.

Mathematics Department

Math and Physical Education Instill Principles

RON COLYER, BS from Southeast Missouri State University, advises the Eagle-Lite and Student Council, teaches speech, and coaches Varsity Basketball in addition to his duties as physical education teacher for boys. MRS. MARGARET McCARTY, BS from Northeast Missouri State University, teaches girls' PE, sponsors the senior class and GAA, and coaches the archery, track, and field teams. JAMES STUART, MA from Northeast Missouri State University, is a freshman class sponsor, coaches baseball, and instructs summer Driver's Education as well as teaches boys' PE. MISS CAROL NEFF, BS from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, teaches girls' PE and sponsors GA. Both GAA sponsors help on the Freshman Potluck Supper and the Senior Banquet and teach health as well as physical education.

Offers Opportunities

CHARLES DAY received his BS from Southeast Missouri State; he sponsors the freshman class, coaches Junior Varsity Football, and teaches wood working and metal working. VAUGHN JOHNSON, BS from Murray State University, sponsors the freshman class and teaches drafting, drawing, cabinet making, and surveying. RONALD KRUSE, BS from Illinois State University, teaches engine mechanics and welding and coaches varsity football. LARRY W. KRAFT, BS from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, sponsors the junior class and FFA in addition to teaching agriculture and engine mechanics. He sponsored such FFA activities as the annual banquet, public speaking contest, Crop and Livestock Judging, and Mechanics Skills Contest. CHARLES STITES, BS from Eastern Illinois University, teaches metal working and electronics and sponsors the Camera Club.

MISS SANDRA POWELL, who received a BS from Eastern Illinois University, teaches office practice and shorthand and serves as sophomore class sponsor. Her classes have toured Ralston Purina and heard numerous representatives from area business schools.

PHILIP LAMBERT, teacher of typing and bookkeeping, holds a BS from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. In addition to taking his bookkeeping classes on a tour of Singer American Furnace Company, he is a Senior class sponsor and helped with the Senior Class Magazine Drive.

Practical Arts Teach Skills

MISS CAROLYN HOUSER, who has a masters degree from the University of Illinois, teaches home economics. She sponsors the Future Teachers of America, which visited Illinois State University and also heard Officer Don Hutchings speak on the Columbia Rescue Service, and Future Homemakers of America, which held a Christmas Banquet and viewed the Ice Capades. In addition, Miss Houser worked on the Success Committee and the Belleville Area College Committee. Her Child Care and Family Nursing classes visited St. Louis Children's Hospital.

Specialists Provide Services

Mrs. June Weisenborn supervises the preparation of student cafeteria meals.

Mrs. Weisenborn is assisted in the preparation of lunches by Mrs. Virginia Hutchings, Mrs. Rose Blittersdorf, Mrs. Wanda Bayer, Mrs. Lela Reichert.

Secretaries in the Superintendent's and Principal's offices assist students and serve the school district with record keeping. Mrs. Marilyn Snider, STANDING LEFT, is secretary to Mr. Mygatt and is in charge of the high school's main office. She has numerous responsibilities which require that she come into contact with students on a daily basis. Mrs. Doris Bound, STANDING RIGHT, serves as bookkeeper to the district in the Superintendent's office. Mrs. Rhonda Kocher, SEATED, is secretary to Mr. Williams, Superintendent.

Specialists Serve District

Art Club Improves Department

This year the Art Club sponsored the KXOK All Stars as their major money-making project. The KXOK team played the Columbia Small-Stars whose membership consisted of both men and women faculty members. The profit from this event was used to buy an electric pottery wheel for the Art Department. The Art Club also sponsored a speaker on arts and crafts at one of their meetings this year. Mrs. Wrinkle was this speaker and spoke on making handicrafts in the home without having to buy many materials. The Art Club also took a field trip to Cape Girardeau, Missouri where they attended the Arts & Crafts Fair.

Ecology Club

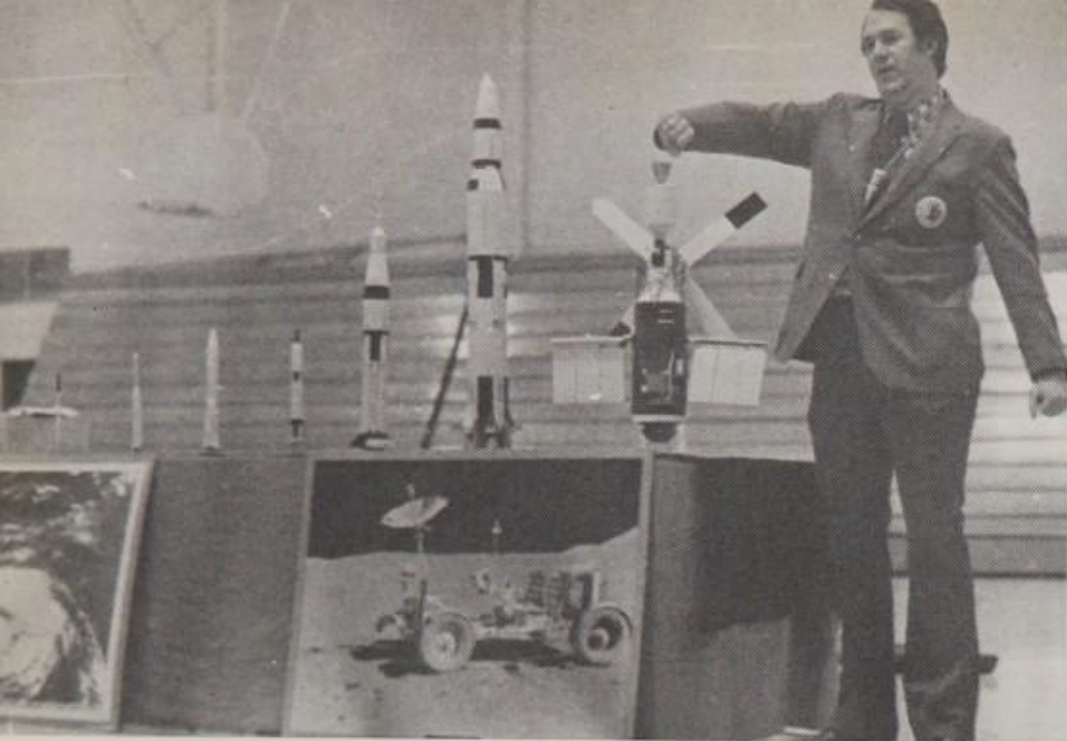

A new club was added to extracurricular activities. The Ecology Club was started by concerned students interested in saving the environment. A guest speaker from Project SEE in Michigan and the KXOK Truck Stuffing Contest were sponsored by this club. The Ecology Club members have hopes of opening a recycling center in the summer, setting up trash receptacles, and beginning a school wide paper drive.

NASA Program Is Informative

The Science Club sponsored an informative and captivating program on the NASA program. The speaker explained various stages of space exploration and the variety of space vehicles and equipment needed to make space flights. He had representative samples of some of the equipment and space suits used by the astronauts. Scale replicas of rockets were also on display. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Rains, the Science Club members also perform experiments.

Camera Club

The Camera Club initiated the idea of purchasing a slide projector for Columbia High School. Their project proved to be successful when the Camera Club (along with monetary donations from the Art Club, F.H.A., Student Council, and the Latin Club) purchased a Kodak slide carousel. The Camera Club members went on a picture taking field trip to downtown St. Louis.

Math Club Has an Active Year

This year the Math Club was more industrious than they have ever been. A bake sale was sponsored early in the year to help finance one of the math contests which was hosted by Columbia High School. The members of the Math Club combined their efforts to sponsor a Round-Robin Volleyball Tournament. The members entered not only the local math contest but also contests held at S.I.U.-Edwardsville and S.I.U.-Carbondale.

MATH CLUB OFFICERS: Mr. Trotter, Sponsor; T. Horsley, Vice-president; J. Hemmer, Secretary; J. Lowe, President; S. Schneider, Treasurer.

The volleyball tournament proved to be a big success in two ways. First, it was a monetary success for the Math Club. Second, it was successful in bringing various student and faculty groups together for a very enjoyable evening. The men faculty team won the Men's Division and the women faculty team won the Women's Division.

MATH CONTEST WINNERS. 1st ROW: C. Riebeling, Honorable Mention at Columbia Contest; R. Carl, Honorable Mention at Columbia Contest; H. Student Action for Education Is F.T.A.'s New Designation

The Future Teachers of America was very active in educational affairs this year. The club traveled to Illinois State University at Normal this fall for their annual trip to a college. The club also sponsored the Robert F. Holden Scholarship Game. Members of the club helped form a S.U.C.C.E.S.S. committee which worked to get people to vote for the December tax referendum. Volunteers from F.T.A. worked at the F.F.A. Banquet. Speakers at the club meetings were Mr. Williams, who spoke on the school's financial problems, Mr. Rains, a new science teacher at C.H.S., and Miss Morris, who spoke and showed slides on England. Don Hutchings and Alice Horcher were also speakers and spoke about the Emergency Rescue Service and demonstrated some rescue equipment. From now on, the F.T.A. will be known by its new name--S.A.E. or Student Action for Education. The name was changed because the state officers of F.T.A. felt that students were joining for more than the simple reason of wanting to be a teacher. Students were in fact very concerned with all aspects of education.

Eagle-lite Staffs

The first and second semester journalism classes worked hard to meet their periodic newspaper deadlines. The early issues of this year's paper were published as part of the local newspaper, the COLUMBIA STAR. The later issues were again published separately. The last issue of the year was six pages in length and recapped the 1972-73 school year.

Columbian Staff & Library Club

The COLUMBIAN staff's responsibility is to publish the yearbook. Each individual becomes aware of the complexity and hard work involved in publishing such a book.

The Library Club is primarily a service organization although this year it did sponsor a bake sale and a volleyball tournament.

F.H.A. Promotes Participation

The Future Homemakers of America was very active this year in projects and demonstrations dealing with home-making and helping the school. The club had volunteers sell Coke and popcorn at all benefit and home basketball games. F.H.A. donated money to the B.A.C. project, the S.U.C.C.E.S.S. committee, the band for new uniforms, and helped purchase a new movie projector for use at the high school. Members of the club sponsored a Christmas Banquet where the girls were entertained by singing Christmas carols and by Santa Claus reading letters which the club members had written. There was also a gift exchange.

FHA OFFICERS. SEATED: S. Farmer, Projects Chairman; M. Norman, President; J. Stumpf, Treasurer. BACK ROW: M. Buettner, Secretary; R. Kirk, Vice-President; C. Houser, sponsor.

Speakers & Christmas Banquet Highlight F.H.A. Activities

The club also went to the Ice Capades at the Arena this year. During the year, the F.H.A. were entertained by various speakers at their monthly meetings. Mrs. Wrinkle spoke about art in the home, and Christy Wallhaus talked about the beauty school she was attending. Mrs. Low Hoffman demonstrated crocheting jewelry and Mrs. Patrick from Dee Dee's Floral Shop demonstrated flower arranging and making corsages. At one of its meetings the club members were entertained by different ensembles from the band. At the last meeting of the year the Seniors each received a gift.

The Drama Club

The Drama Club enjoyed a very successful year. The satisfaction and accomplishment felt by the club members, Mr. Clayton, and Mr. Humphreys cannot be expressed in words.

The first successful undertaking was the one-act contest play which was presented at the contest held at O'Fallon, Illinois on March 10th. It was the Drama Club's first entry in any such contest and the group was rated fourth out of seven entries. The one-act play presented was Jay Gould's adaptation of Robert Frost's poem, DEATH OF THE HIRED MAN.

Has Another Successful Year

The Drama Club's second successful endeavor was the presentation of the old-fashioned melodrama "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" which was held on Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24. The play is complete with the naive, faint-hearted heroine, the mustached, black-hearted villain, the well-meaning hero, the fallen woman and various other comic characters. The director of this play was Mr. Clayton, and Mr. Humphreys was the technical director. Mrs. Clayton made the costumes. Other credits should go to the student director, Betty Tolin; Stage Manager, Carol Lagow; House Manager, Mike Loerch; Photography, Doug Rathert. Essential to the production of the play were the members of the stage, lighting, prop, costume, make-up, and sound crews.

Lettermen's Club Sponsors Red Heads Basketball Team

The Lettermen's Club sponsored an unusual basketball game featuring the "Red Heads" versus the men faculty. They sponsored a dance and also added record plaques for each Varsity sport. The club also sponsored the mascot plaques in the high school gym. To be in the Lettermen's Club the individual must have received a Major letter in any sport at school and each sport has its own requirements.

Mr. Humphreys and Debbie Gavach made the mascot plaques for the conference teams.

Pep Club Boosts

The Pep Club worked very hard to boost the school spirit at C.H.S. The Pep Club organized most of the pep rallies and had two Spirit Days. One Spirit Day was held the day of the Dupo football game. Activities for that day included "slaves" sold to football players, blue/white day, helium spirit balloons, a powder puff football game, and tricycle race.

The second Spirit Day was held on the day of the Waterloo home basketball game. The main event was the spirit contest where the classes competed against each other in a poster contest, a blue/white dress up contest, a yelling contest, and the spirit link contest. The Freshmen class won the Spirit Stick that day because they had accumulated the most points. Pep rallies throughout the year included a pie throwing contest, a tug-o-war, and Eagle Machine skit, and a Miss C.H.S. beauty contest of which Jeff Devenport was the winner.

Mr. Harris and Mrs. Hanegan proved to be superior tricycle racers.

Pep Club Sponsors Homecoming

One of the biggest projects undertaken by the Pep Club was the first Homecoming in the history of C.H.S. The homecoming parade was held on November 11 before the Carterville home football game. The parade started from the Unit Building and traveled down Main Street to the football field. Local merchants helped finance the four floats in the parade. These floats were constructed by the Freshmen Class, the Sophomore Class, the Art Club/Drama Club, and the Pep Club. Other parade units included a fire engine with the Junior Varsity cheerleaders and two Fresh.-Soph. cheerleaders, a decorated car by the Student Council, a car representing the Senior Class, a convertible car with the Varsity cheerleaders, and a truck carrying several G.A.A. members. Also in the parade line-up were cars carrying Mr. and Mrs. Mygatt and Mr. and Mrs. Williams. Mrs. Hanegan and Mr. Humphreys were the coordinators of this first C.H.S. Homecoming.

G.A.A. Promotes Physical Fitness

The Girls Athletic Association is primarily concerned with promoting physical fitness and good sportsmanship. Every Wednesday evening for most of the school term a play-nite is held. Activities for these play-nites varied and included such events as a Halloween Party where the girls participated in relay races, a co-ed night, Freshmen initiation where the new members had to perform in front of the old members, a stunt night, and basketball and volleyball tournaments. Members from G.A.A. also went Christmas caroling and could also go bowling to earn points for their awards.

Girls' Archery Team Has a Successful First Year

This year was the first year for Mrs. McCarty's archers to try their shots in competition. The season consisted of two matches both against Freeburg. The home match was on September 22 and the away match on October 5. Columbia did not win either match, but for their first year in competition, they made a fine showing. The squad has had no previous experience. As each year passes, the squads will definitely improve.

Eagles' Cheerleading Squads

The Varsity squad this year consisted of Mary Bellm, Jill Eschmann, Linda Crossley, Rhonda Gregory, Susie Harres, and Sandy Kleinschmidt. Susie Harres was the captain. Ms. Glenn and Ms. Harley were the cheerleading sponsors.

The squad attended a cheerleading camp at Champagne during the dummer. The squad won the Spirit Frog three times. This trip was financed by money earned at the school picnic, at the Strassenfest, by selling candles and having bake sales. Members of all cheerleading squads help pay their expenses by earning money from babysitting or other jobs.

For the first time any girl in any class could go out for the Varsity squad.

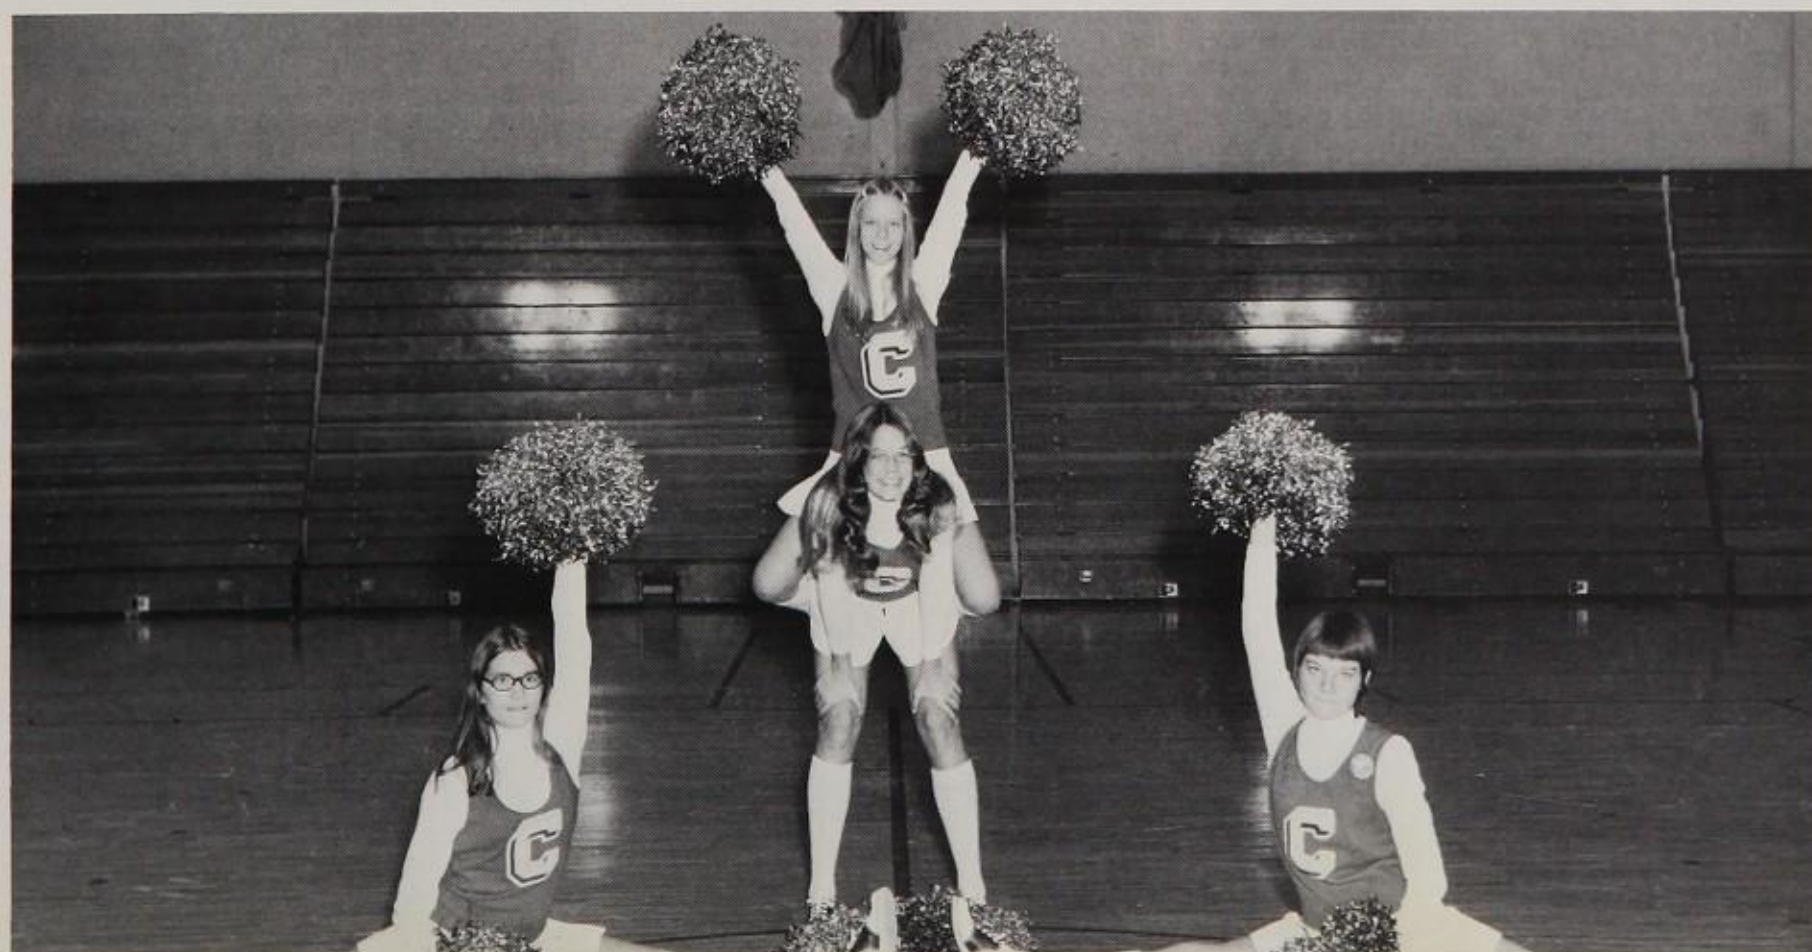

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: Glenda Ahlers, Debbie Zavadil, Vicky Goudey, and Paula Palmer.

FRESH.-SOPH. CHEERLEADERS: Donna Bissell, Terri Steele, Laurie Landgraf, and Gail Nottmeier.

Athletic Banquet Features Bob Burnes As Guest Speaker

The 7th Annual Athletic Banquet sponsored by the Columbia Gymnastic Association was held on Wednesday, May 16 at Turner Hall. Guest speaker for the affair was Bob Burnes, executive sports editor of the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Burnes entertained the athletes, parents, and guests by relating both his recent and distant experiences in sports and by discussing their values in sports.

Minor letter winners were announced by the coaches of their respective sports and major letter winners were presented their letters or service bars. Cheerleaders were given their letters by Mrs. Evelyn Glenn. Recognition was also given to the girls' track team and Mary Bellm who had won a berth at the State Track Meet at Charleston, Illinois.

The Gustav Pentzler award was given to the most valuable player in each sport. The winners were Jeff Devenport in baseball, Brad Chattillion in tennis, Jim Range in cross country, Kevin Smith in track, Wayne Goudey in basketball, and Steve Ehlers in football.

"Nights in White Satin"

"Nights In White Satin" was the prom theme for the 1973 Junior-Senior Prom which was held on May 11 at the Turner Hall in Columbia. Music was provided by Alice and Omar. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1973 Prom Queen by Junior Class Vice-President, Rick Beatty. This year's queen was Ginny Pope.

Queen Ginny and her escort, Jeff Devenport.

Vicki Hosler, 1972 Prom Queen, crowns the new queen.

Former queen, Vicki Hosler and escort, Steve Metter.

Jill Eschmann and escort, Steve Ehlers.

Linda Crossley and escort, Joel Harres.

Miss Pope wore a powder blue, polyester dress, with empire waist and puffed sleeves. It tied in the back and was accented with lace around the neck, sleeves, and bottom. Miss Hosler wore a turquoise peasant style dress with green flowers and set-in sleeves. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Miss Eschmann wore a white crepe formal with scattered pink and blue flowers. Miss Hosick wore a polyester floor-length dress with a square neckline. Miss Browne wore a baby pink polyester knit formal with an empire waistline and self-fabric ruffles on the high stand-up collar. Miss Crossley wore a long formal gathered at the bodice, made of chiffon. Overlaying the skirt was a layer of blue-green-gold taffeta.

Five Students Receive Top Honors

For the first time in the history of Columbia High School, five students were awarded the top scholastic honor possible. Five valedictorian awards were presented at commencement exercises held on June 1. Susan Schneider, John Lowe, Karen Maisch, Brian Steppig, and Janice Hemmer were these honored students. Susan Schneider has enrolled at McKendree College and Karen Maisch plans to attend Elmhurst College. Both Brian Steppig and John Lowe are enrolled at the University of Illinois. Janice Hemmer has made plans to join the Navy.

These Students Rank Among Top Ten Seniors

Competition was very keen among the Senior students to maintain their top ten standing in their class. Besides the five students who had maintained a perfect 5.00 average, the students pictured on this page also did well scholastically and ranked in the top ten of their class. These students were Marcia Buettner, Darryl Brinkmann, Mike Loerch, Rick Moisio, and Carol Lagow.

Mr. Clayton gives Dramatics awards to Marcy Norman and Karen Maisch.

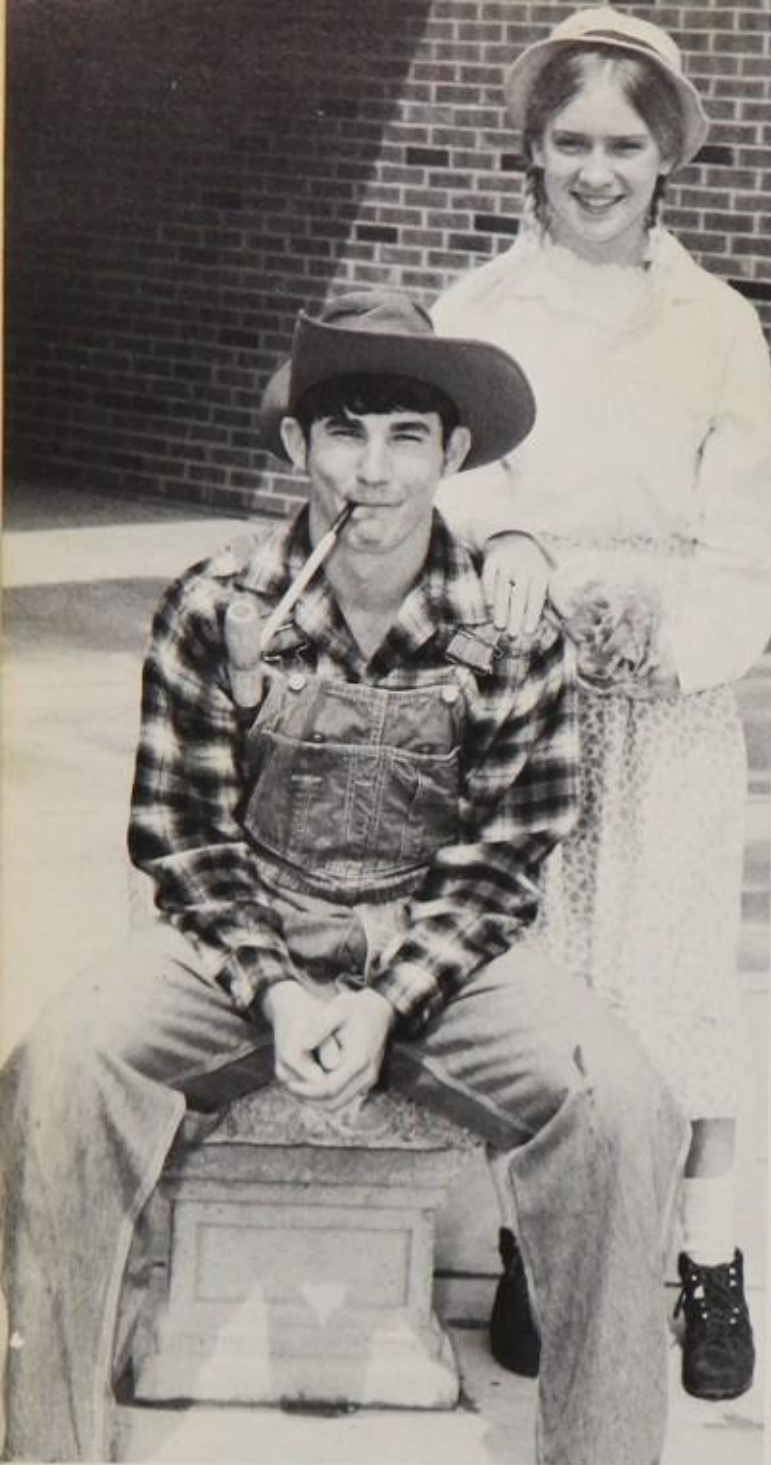

The Journalism Award is given to John Lowe.

Debbie O'Brien receives the Commerce Award for her outstanding work in the business oriented course work.

Miss Houser presents the Home Economics Award to Joyce Fischer.

SADIE HAWKINS KING AND QUEEN: Bryan Parker and Glenda Ahlers.

Basketball Queen and Sadie Hawkins King & Queen

The Sadie Hawkins Dance which was sponsored by the National Honor Society was held on December 8 in the high school cafeteria. Decorations of hay bales and an ole time barn transferred the cafeteria area into a hill-billy type atmosphere for the dance. Any couple who wished to be married paid twenty-five cents. The "wedding ceremony" included the exchange of rings, a corsage for the bride, and a certificate. Those couples wishing to compete for the honor of being Sadie Hawkins King and Queen danced in the center of the floor and were judged by Mr. Parker and Mr. Harris. Mr. Harris was "Marrin' Sam" for the gala event.

The Basketball Queen crowning was a much more serious event. Students nominated candidates for the honor. Two Seniors and two Juniors were nominated. One member from the Sophomore class and one member from the Freshman class were attendants. The crowning took place at the half-time of the J.V. Basketball game.

Baccalaureate Held on May 20

For the first time in the history of Columbia High School, Seniors were given the option to attend Baccalaureate Services at their own discretion. This option was given to the Senior Class because of the poor attendance in past years at this particular event.

Rev. William Frazier of Bethany Methodist Church and Father Jasen of Immaculate Conception Church were the guest speakers.

The C. H. S. Chorus sang several selections. Senior Class member Linda Campbell was the featured soloist in one of their numbers.

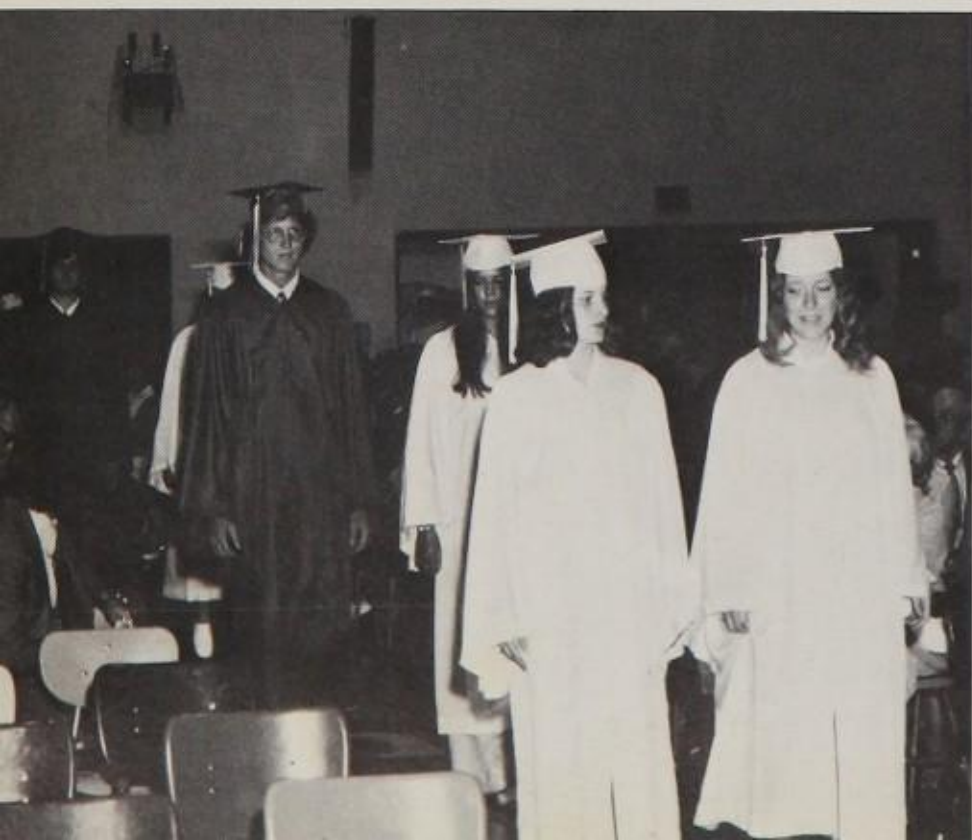

Commencement Exercises Hosted by the Class of '73

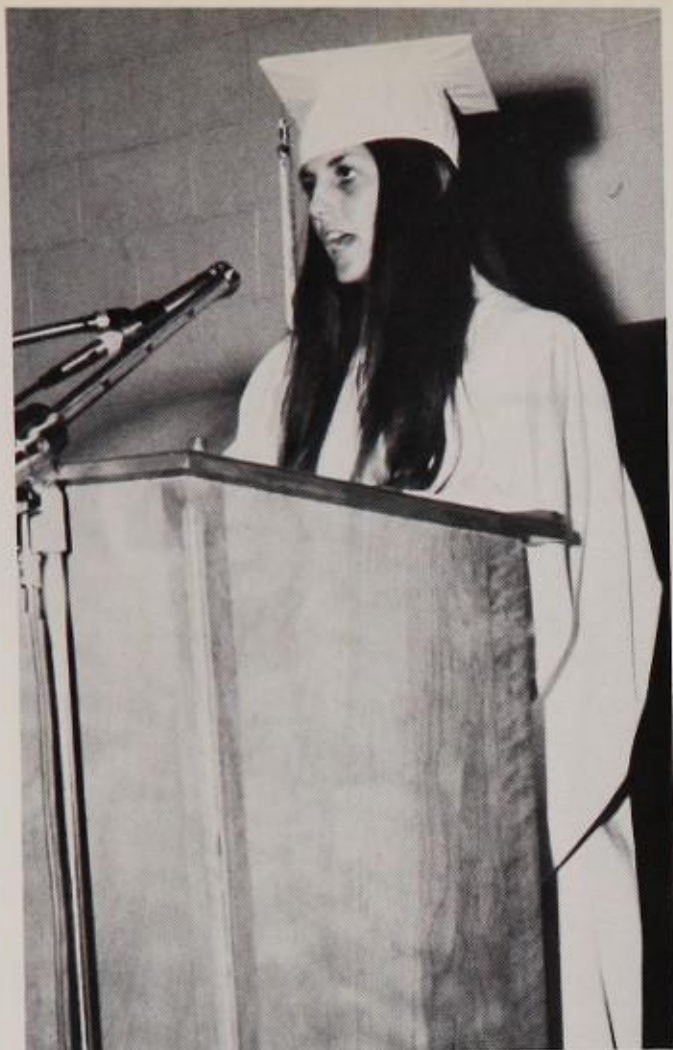

Although the evening was warm and uncomfortable, the Class of 1973 eagerly anticipated the reward that they had so long waited for. For the first time in the history of Columbia High School, five students received top honors for their four years of academic work. These five students were an integral part of Commencement Exercises. (John Lowe, one of the top five students, was unable to attend the event.)

J. Moehrs and C. Brinkmann were Junior Marshalls.

Karen Maisch, Valedictorian, has the Invocation.

Introductions were made by Cindy Haberal, Class President.

Rick Moisio, John Philip Sousa Award Winner, directs "How the West Was Won".

Gale Ritter, Arion Award Winner, sings "Somewhere" from "West Side Story".

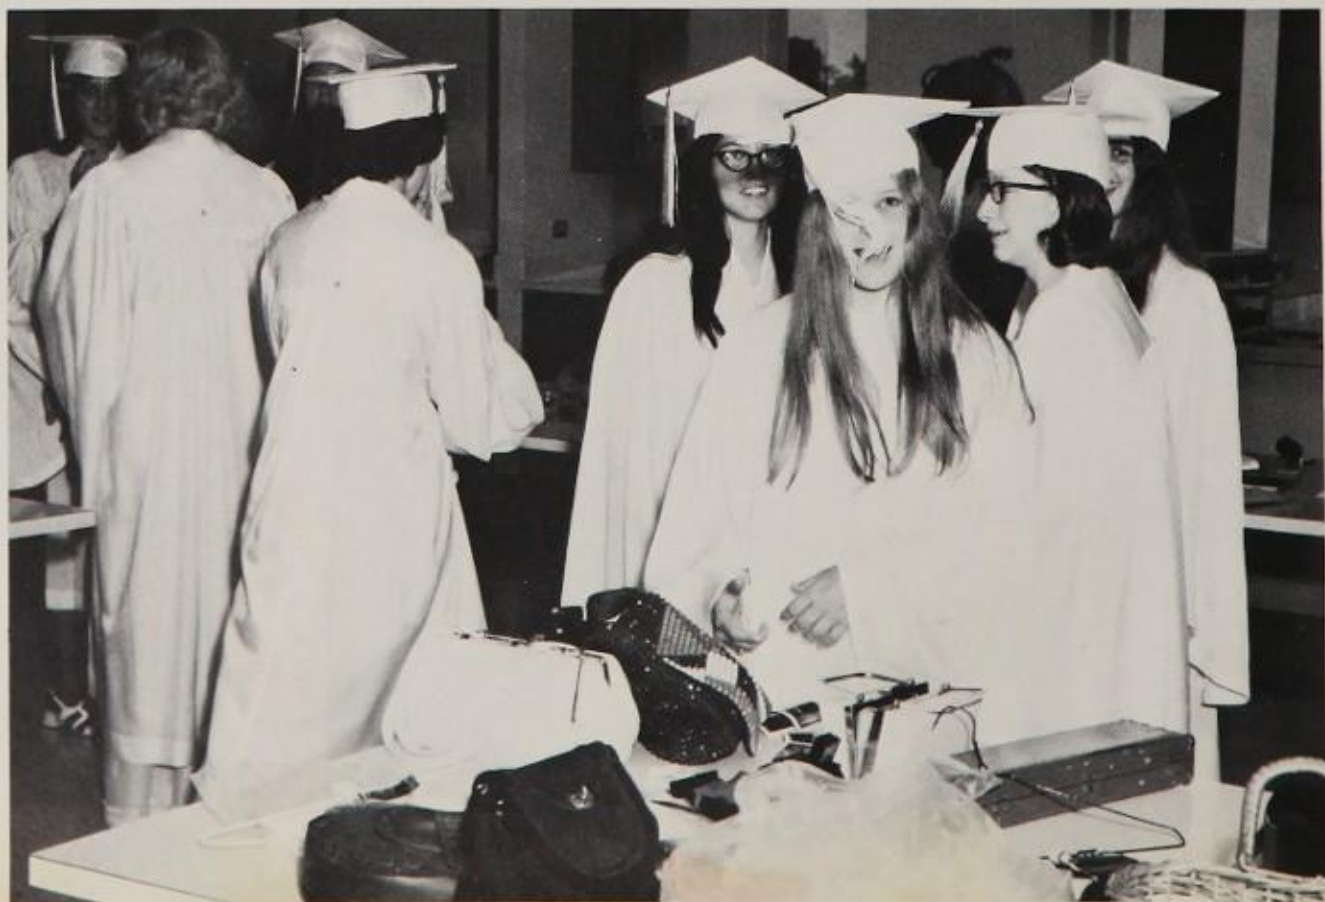

Susan Schneider, Valedictorian, expresses her philosophy on education.

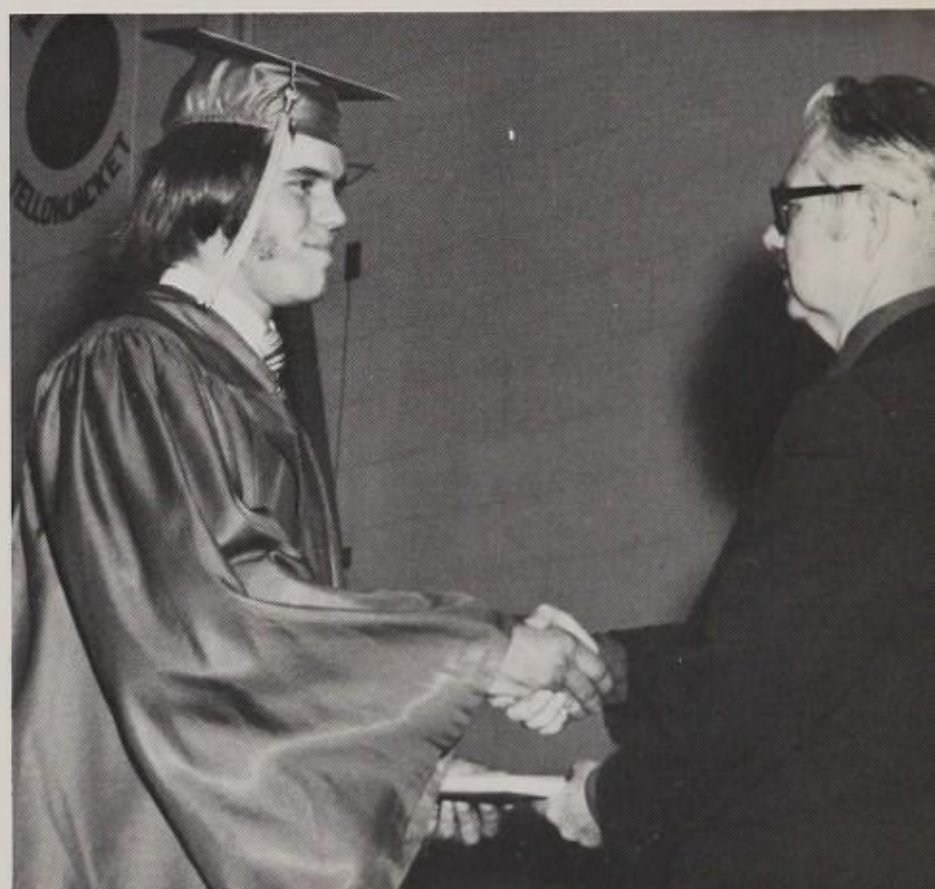

Brian Steppig, Valedictorian, gives a few brief comments.

Janice Hemmer, Valedictorian, has the Benediction.
